

You're invited to:

Join CYS for Saturday Shakes

an afternoon of FREE
Shakespeare acting workshops
just for high school students!

chicagoyouthshakespeare
be not afraid of greatness

When: Saturday, May 20, 2017

Where: The Hypocrites Theatre, located at 4201 N Ravenswood Ave #105

What: Sign up for one, two, or all three of the workshops below, and please keep in mind this *SUPER IMPORTANT DISCLAIMER: Space is limited to 10 students per workshop, so registration is “first-come, first-serve”.

Sign up now to reserve a spot!

Monologue Bootcamp Noon—1:50pm

Be prepared to unpack, dissect, and perfect your Shakespeare monologue, so you can “wreck” your next audition! Students should come ready to perform at least one Shakespeare monologue (any play/role/gender). Ideally, monologues should be fully memorized, (or VERY close).

Laban Technique 2pm—3pm

Learn to embody a character physically (and honestly) using Laban’s Eight Efforts of movement. There is no prep necessary for this workshop (but wear comfortable clothes, because you’ll be moving a lot).

Meisner Bootcamp 3:10pm—5pm

Get out of your head (for real) and live truthfully on stage by applying principles of Meisner Technique to Shakespeare scene study. Shakespeare scenes/sides will be provided. [*Some experience with Meisner preferable, but not a deal-breaker.]

All three workshops will focus on acting techniques and tips for performing Shakespeare, so please come in with at least one Shakespeare monologue that you know well (or want to get to know better), and bring a hard copy if possible.

Take me to SIGN-UPS

Copyright © 2017 Chicago Youth Shakespeare, Inc., All rights reserved.

Want to change how you receive these emails?

You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list

MailChimp